The Best Tool in The Tool Box

We are all unique. That is true and good. Also true: We are all different. This can be good... But not necessarily. Cause my favorite behavioral style does not work well with everyone. For some it creates tension,- before a word is said!

Using DISC Assessment, you get an encounter with yourself and your preferred style as you work, learn, change and collaborate.

Through this course from DREIESKIVA Roald Kvam, you and your team - with all your differences - learn to work smarter and faster in unique situations and through different processes. Whether it concerns (further) development of solutions, the organization or your business. Whether you are in a start-up or scaling phase, growth or crises.

The Best Tool in The Tool Box establishes the framework that promotes a relationally intelligent, agile workforce.
